HAVE A CULTURAL FOUNDATION

In Paving the way to future, women and children are seen in a village in the mountains. The women in the foreground are seen in a line, and the children are seen in the background. The women are seen in a line, and the children are seen in the background. The women are seen in a line, and the children are seen in the background.

CONSIDER YOUR PLANET

During the night in Puerto Rico, when the moon is full, the people dance in the water. The water is the highest level of the sea and the people dance on the top of the water.
