RED RICE

Heirloom Variety

This native rice variety is something special - it has been passed on from one generation to the other by small family farmers who make it a point to save seeds for future planting or for sharing with other organic farmers. It is cultivated in healthy rich fertile soils in the mountain regions of Negros Island, Philippines.

Red Rice contains both macro and micronutrient and the red color pigment found in Red rice contains anthocyanins, phytonutrients which is an antioxidant, helps boosts the immune system.

Our rice are grown by small organic farmers who share a strong committed to good health, quality food, ethical fair trade, eco-friendly sustainable farming practices and are catalyst for positive change in their local communities.

COOKING INSTRUCTIONS: Soak rice at least 1 hour or more with a ratio of 1 cup of rice - 2 cups water. Add or reduce water according to desired texture. Cook for 30-40 minutes. Serve, enjoy and don't waste!!!
